

WHAT IS WUE?

WUE is the Western Undergraduate Exchange, a program coordinated by the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education (WICHE). Through WUE, students in western states may enroll in many two-year and four-year college programs at a reduced tuition rate, 150 percent of the institution's regular resident tuition. In all cases, WUE tuition is considerably less than nonresident tuition.

APPLICATION AND ADMISSION

WUE is decentralized program in which the student applies to the institution of his/her choice, indicating that WUE status is desired. At this point this student applies as a WUE student claiming residency from a participating WUE state. In determination of the applicant's residency, the institution may require additional documentation. A student may request that the home state certifying office furnish a certificate of residence.
