

Assessment Day: Conversations about Student Learning--Round 2

We had a great conversation last fall with people from all around the college, and we want to invite you back for more:

- Are you familiar with CCD's new Institutional Outcomes for student learning?
- How do we integrate these learning outcomes into our classes, our degree programs, or throughout the College as a whole?
- How can we best determine whether or not our students are really developing these skills?
- What's part do YOU play in assessment of student learning? What part do you think you SHOULD play?
- Have you been involved in an assessment project in your area? How's it going?

Come join in small group dialogue with your colleagues regarding CCD's assessment efforts. Have you been involved in a departmental assessment project? How is it going? What's working and what isn't? How might we begin to incorporate the new Institutional Outcomes in course or program level assessment? Share your experiences and ask questions. Help us (SLC – the Assessment Committee) as we continue to define and develop CCD's approach to assessment based on your input.

All faculty and staff are welcome.

When: Friday, March 15th, 10 am – noon

Where: Cherry Creek (SO) 235

For questions, contact

Stephen.Thomas@ccd.edu or

Stephanie.Harrison@ccd.edu