

MARCUS JOHNSON

ADVISORY BOARD MEMBER, COMMUNITY COLLEGE OF DENVER

Marcus T. Johnson serves as a valued member of the Community College of Denver (CCD) Advisory Council, bringing extensive expertise in economic development, strategic partnerships, and community investment. With a career dedicated to advancing inclusive growth and workforce opportunity, Marcus helps guide CCD's mission to create accessible pathways to education and upward mobility for Denver's diverse communities.

Throughout his professional journey, Marcus has worked across the public and private sectors to strengthen economic ecosystems, attract investment, and support small business development. His deep understanding of regional workforce trends and employer needs helps CCD align academic programs with real-world opportunities that drive prosperity and equity across the city.

At CCD, Marcus collaborates with college leadership, faculty, and community partners to advance initiatives that connect education to employment and empower students to thrive in a rapidly changing economy. His leadership reinforces CCD's role as a key partner in Denver's growth, where education, opportunity, and innovation intersect to create lasting community impact.
